Appi Pujary (69 yrs), had a blood clot in the head six years ago and she started losing her memory. She has three sons and a daughter. Her sons started ill treating her when she became sick and refused to look after her or spend for her treatment. She is staying in the house of her daughter at present. Her daughter is poor and stays in a large joint family of thirteen members. Her daughter's mother in law and husband's brothers do not allow her old mother to be with them. Her daughter's husband works as a driver and they already have borrowed Rs five lac which needs to be repaid.

Therefore, she intends to keep her mother separately in a small rented house and look after her with monetary help from kind hearted people. She requests kind hearted individuals and philanthropists to generously help her to look after her mother. She needs about Rs fifteen thousand per month for the purpose.
