

Mangaluru: 26 years old married women go missing mysteriously

06/02/2017 13:21 by admin

Rekha (26), a resident of Padil in the city, reportedly left her home on January 23 with the stated purpose of visiting the home guards office at Mary Hill here in connection with the reimbursement of hospitalization expenses. She never returned and the family failed to gather any details about her in spite of trying their best. Thereafter, the family filed a complaint in Kavour police station.

Rekha had got treatment from a private hospital for some ailment recently and had been discharged after getting well. She had told her family members before leaving her home that she was visiting the office of the home guards, of which she too is an employee, to seek reimbursement of bills.

Kavour police have registered the missing case and are making efforts to locate the missing person.