Sanaa (Yemen): Two suicide attacks have killed at least 45 people in army and injured dozens more in the southern Yemeni city of Aden.

At least one of the blasts occurred in the Khor Maksar district of the port city, which serves as the temporary capital of Yemen's Saudi-backed government while it seeks to seize back the capital Sanaa from the armed Houthi group.

It is said to have been targetting recruits as they lined up to enlist for military service to fight against the Houthi insurgency to the north.

Local news website Aden al-Ghad showed pictures of soldiers picking up bloodied comrades in uniform from the ground and witnesses reported seeing ambulances with blaring sirens collecting the wounded from the scene.
