An emotional post has gone viral on social media has a pet owner requesting the person, who robbed his camera to return its memory card. It has the pictures of his pet dog's last day alive.

“To the man who was in my house and robbed me, read the note.

“Keep the cash, and my DSLR, and whatever else you took. But if you have the memory card from the camera, please, it has photos of my dog's last day alive on it.

“I cannot replace those photos. Please throw it on to the porch or put it in the mail slot. Or mail it.

“Please. She died a few days ago. I cannot lose those photos as well.”

The pet owner also gave his phone number at the end of the note. The emotional post has received an equally warm response from the people as the post has received 49,000 shares.
