Jennifer Lopez revealed she is "relaxed and recharged" two weeks after her Super Bowl performance.

Jennifer, 50, showed off her toned tummy in a barely-there white bikini in an Instagram photo on Sunday.

She captioned the sexy snap of her fit figure: "Relaxed and recharged."

Her famous Instagram followers couldn't help but praise the songstress' body.

Kourtney Kardashian commented: "Damn."

Gabrielle Union wrote: "Unicorn."

Real Housewives of New Jersey star Melissa Gorga said: "Damn man."

The photo comes two weeks after her sexy Super Bowl performance

The photo comes after a busy month for JLo.

The mother-of-two kicked off February with a performance at the Super Bowl halftime show alongside singer Shakira.

Her daughter Emme, 11, with ex-husband Marc Anthony, made an appearance and sang with her mom at one point.

Last week, Jennifer hit an Oscars afterparty in a glittery silver dress with a plunging neckline and thigh-high slit.

She also appeared in a shoe campaign during her busy month

The actress also stripped down for a campaign with shoe line The Camuto Group this month.

She was most recently spotted on a date with fiancé and former MLB player Alex Rodriguez on Thursday at hotspot Craig's.

But the Valentine's Day dinner may not have been lovey dovey, as the two looked tense while leaving the restaurant.
