Halle, 54, has often been branded one of the most beautiful women in the world “and frequently shows off her stunning figure in a variety of swimsuits and racy bikinis.

The Oscar-winning actress will serve as her own lawyer in her ongoing divorce case with Olivier Martinez, court records obtained by Entertainment Tonight show.

Halle and Olivier, who she shares son Maceo with, filed for divorce noting irreconcilable differences in October 2015, after two years of marriage.

Halle signed off on the change Aug. 11 after it was approved by her former attorney Marina Zakiyan Beck, the outlet reported.

The Monsterâ€™s Ball star will go head-to-head with Laura Wasser, a divorce attorney also hired by Angelina Jolie in her split from Brad Pitt.

Halle previously made headlines in 2011 with a custody battle over daughter Nahla with ex-boyfriend Gabriel Aubry after she said she wanted to move her daughter with her to Paris to live with Olivier.

Gabriel and Halle reached an amicable agreement in 2012, after a judge denied her request to move her daughter to France.

A settlement was finally approved in 2014 when Superior Court Judge Scott Gordon ordered Halle to pay him $16,000 a month in child support payments.
